Monica Fund Already Over $2,000; Big 20 - Act Benefit Show Slated

She'll Smile

WITH HUNDREDS coming to her assistance and contributing to the 'Monica Trust Fund,' little Monica Cotter, 4 1/2, whose body was very badly burned by fire June 5, will have a chance to be made whole again—a chance to be happy again.

Contributions to the Monica Cotter Trust Fund poured in so fast this week, as the resources of radio and press and the energies of countless kind-hearted folks were placed behind the drive, that it became difficult to keep up with total collections. As this article was written, the fund—with an original goal of $5,000—already was well over $2,000, with prospects that it will surpass $10,000.

The story of five-year-old Monica Cotter and her brave fight for life has touched the hearts of thousands, and the fund-raising campaign started in Arlington to pay her hospital bills has spread and expanded until it takes in all of New England and may shortly be broadcast on a nation-wide network.

In two days alone, "Babe" Rubenstein, who broadcasts from the race tracks, raised more than $1,200 at Suffolk Downs, From Rockingham Park in Salem, N.H., Tuesday, he told the Press: "I am not stopping; I'll keep appealing for funds until little Monica is assured of the best care possible, and a chance at happiness."

Rubenstein was interested in the case of the cruelly burned child by Tony Truscello of 9 Higgins St., owner of the Broadway Club in Saugus. Truscello, with George Morgan of the Brattle Spa, drew up a letter authorizing Rubenstein to solicit funds. This was signed with alacrity by Police Sgt. Charles

O. Toomey, who however had not expected the tremendous response that immediately followed.

This week—every day—Monica's story was being told and retold on Station WMEX, and contributions were pouring in upon Walter Chamberlain of the Arlington Co-operative Bank, treasurer of the 'Monica Trust Fund.'

Meanwhile, there were other outstanding developments indicating that the fund now will—beyond any doubt—reach proportions undreamed of at the start.

One week from Monday—on August 30—one of the best variety shows ever seen in Arlington will be staged at town hall. It will be put on entirely free of charge by Mr. Truscello, the Broadway Club owner—with 20 acts from the club. Ben Pullo's famous band will be there, and so will Phil Allen, famous comedian, as master of ceremonies. Tickets will be $2; the affair will be advertised over the radio, and it is expected this one event alone will yield $2,500 to be added to the fund.

"This is one of the best breaks we've gotten," commented George Harris of the committee. "It'll be a fine show, worth five times the admission price. Mr. Truscello certainly is showing himself as a

Will She Win?

MARY EMERY, 16, (above), of 11 Hobbs Court, will be one of the finalists in the state beauty contest sponsored by the AMVETS. The AMVETS are slated to pick 'Miss Massachusetts' during a moonlight sail aboard the 'Liberty Bell' Monday evening, in honor of the organization's new officers. Miss Emery, picked as 'Miss Arlington' recently, survived the first eliminations conducted at the AMVETS' state convention.

tender-hearted and generous man."

Even the tickets for the show will be printed free of charge, so that every cent will go directly to the fund. Use of the town hall, free, was approved by the selectmen Monday.

Other benefits are scheduled—so many that an accurate list is difficult to compile. The AYA will have two benefit ball games; the

Man, 90, Run Down By Car; Gravely Hurt

Piggy Bank With $25 In Coins Stolen

A little piggy was stolen in Arlington Tuesday.

It was a toy pig, or rather a piggy bank, and so it couldn't squeal in protest when some thief lifted it from a bedroom of the Edward H. Stacey home at 52 Cleveland St.

Mrs. Stacey told police the bank must have contained between $20 and $25 in coins.

A 90-year-old Arlington man was feared near death in Symmes Hospital yesterday after being run down by an auto on Pleasant St.

Walter O'Hara, 90, of 135 Pleasant St., was crossing the street near Lakeview St., at 7:10 yesterday morning, when he was struck and knocked to the pavement by a car operated by John J. Gandy of 14 Lisbeth St., Lexington.

A nearby resident who saw the accident notified police, and Mr. O'Hara was hurried to the hospital in the police ambulance.

At Symmes, he was placed under observation for a possible skull fracture, as well as a possible fracture of the left elbow.

Carmody Benefit Is Slated For Tuesday

In the hope of raising hospital expenses for their second baseman, Bob Carmody, who suffered a multiple leg fracture in a game last week, the Arlington All-Stars have arranged for a benefit game at Spy Pond field next Tuesday at 6 p.m.

Bob, who is one of the most popular members of the team, broke his leg in an accidental collision with the third baseman of St. Joseph's of Malden. This happened third on a single. He had previously twice.

Carmody was an outstanding athlete at Arlington High, where he starred in football, baseball and basketball. He also has played for the AYA, the Legion and St. Agnes. Two years ago he was one of two boys selected to play in an all-star game at Braves Field, and in this game he tripped to right field and stole home with the winning run.

Big Pre-Primary Vote Registration Adds Record 1500 To Voting Lists

Members of the Arlington Board of Registrars can't explain it, but the registration of voters which ended last Friday was the largest registration ever recorded here on the eve of a primary.

Approximately 1,500 new voters had added their names to the voting lists when the registration ended at 10 o'clock Friday night. Six hundred and seventy-five registered at the town clerk's office on the final day.

Town Clerk Earl Ryder had extra helpers at work this week checking over the voting lists to bring them up to date, and pending completion of their work he could not give the exact number of registered voters.

"There is no doubt about it, however," he said, "we now have more registered voters than we've ever had before, and the vote at the Sept. 14 primaries should likewise set a new record."

Asked if he could explain the cause of the heavy registration, he said:

"I can't unless it was Archbishop Cushing's exhortation to register and vote. Many read the Arch-

Baby Rushed To Boston Hospital, Where Safety Pin Is Removed From Throat

Five Generations

FIVE GENERATIONS, including a great grandfather of 60 and a great great grandfather of 87, were gathered recently at a family reunion at the Holt home at 9 Mill St. George Holt, extreme right, was only a great grandfather three months ago, but now he's a great great grandfather since the birth of baby Paul Mason, foreground, who is being held by his mother, Mrs. Dolores (Holt) Mason of 36 Ames St., Somerville. The baby's grandfather, Elwood R. Holt, is at left (standing), and his great grandfather, Charles A. Holt, 60, of 620 Mass. Ave., in center.

An open safety pin lodged in his throat, nine-months-old Richard Harris, Jr., of 17 Norcross St., was rushed by police early Saturday to Mass. Eye and Ear Hospital, where the pin was soon removed.

The baby was held at the hospital for a few days, his throat still sore, and kept under observation for any possible infection.

Mrs. Harris was changing the baby's diaper Monday about 7:50 o'clock, when the infant got hold of a medium-sized safety pin, and swallowed it. It was not the pin from his clothing, but another that lay nearby.

"It all happened so quickly that I didn't see exactly what happened," Mrs. Harris told the Press later, "but I guessed it was a pin because Richard bled a little from the mouth. And he coughed."

The baby's father, also at home at the time, put in a rush call to police and the infant was hurried to Symmes Arlington Hospital. There it was found that special equipment would be needed to remove the pin, which lodged well down in the throat.

A police car with Sgt. Charles O. Toomey and Patrolman William J. Lannigan, accompanied by Mr. Harris, took the child into Boston.

Surgeons at the Mass. Eye and Ear Hospital were able to remove the dangerous pin in a short time. Its point had imbedded itself into the wall of the throat, and it was decided best to keep him at the hospital to guard against possible infection.

Little Richard is the Harris' only child.

This Poor Little Skunk Won't Eat Any More Crisp Beans Or Luscious Corn From Olaf Peterson's Garden

"I've trapped a skunk... what'll I do with it?"

That was the flash to police headquarters at exactly 7:28 a.m. Tuesday.

The phone call was from Olaf Peterson of 30 Mt. Vernon St.

The skunk, it seems, had got itself caught in a trap that Olaf had set out in his victory garden on the Symmes Hospital road, at Summer St.

Some inconsiderate and hungry animal had been eating up the corn and beans in Olaf's victory garden. It looked like work of an energetic woodchuck.

So Olaf consulted with the proper officials, and was assured it was all right under such circumstances to set a couple of traps.

But he wasn't prepared for a skunk.

At police headquarters, the news of a trapped skunk posed a pretty question. How to handle a skunk... without trace?

"Car seven! Calling car seven!" went the radio. "Go to Summer St. and attend to skunk in trap."

The crew in Car Seven went first to the station and armed itself with a shotgun.

Olaf showed the officers the trapped, frightened skunk. And it was an entirely defenseless skunk,

The history of Arlington (first known as Merotomy, and then West Cambridge) goes back to the early days of the Massachusetts Bay Colony. The first grist mill in the Bay Colony was erected here; Arlington also had the first free public library in the state. The men of the town answered Paul Revere's call at daybreak, engaged in the heaviest fighting on that memorable day and made the first capture of British men and supplies in the revolution.

No Room For Politics

Two weeks ago a small group of men—some dozen in number—set out on a very worthy cause: to raise money for Monica Cotter, so badly burned that it is almost a miracle that she lives today. The drive has mushroomed until it has reached greater proportions than anyone could have imagined.

We hope that the original committee will continue as it was constituted at the start. We have heard that several individuals—politicians—would like to get on the band wagon. We know of one case, in Boston, where politicians got charge of a similar drive, purely for selfish reasons... and the campaign petered out.

The men who started this particular campaign did so from humanitarian motives. Their hearts were touched by the plight of a little child—and they decided to do something about it. They don't care about personal publicity.

Come what may, we say that this original committee should remain just as it has been—without additions, without changes. Let the credit go to those who started the ball rolling.

The Joy Of Giving

There is no other joy like it.

The joy of receiving is a light-hearted happiness, a passing pleasure, or perhaps a sober gratitude. But the "joy of giving" is an abiding, deep seated, soul-satisfying happiness.

One gives a penny lollipop to a child. The little one hops about with happiness, licks the lollipop to the end. Then forgets about it, which is natural in a child. But he who gave the lollipop will long remember the joy of the child.

Through the years he will smile in pleasant reminiscence at the gay laughter, the glowing little face, the little hands reaching out for the gift.

Monica Cotter is our little child. And the lollipop we give her is a Hope Chest crammed with, not candy, but dollars. Monica cannot stretch out eager hands to grasp one of these practical lollipops, nor can she dance with happiness RIGHT NOW. But unwittingly she is spreading the Joy of Giving, that soul-satisfying virtue, into the hearts of those hundreds who help fill her Hope Chest, so that some day she may dance in happiness again, and reach out her eager hands for candy lollipops.

So GIVE to Monica's Trust Fund, and gain for yourself everlasting joy, the joy of giving.

University Highlights

Everybody from Grandpa to Jr. should get a kick out of the generously cast new Technicolor musical, "On An Island With You," which starts Sunday at the University Theatre. For this tropical tuner has everything in the way of big-time entertainment, from Esther Williams in stunning underwater ballets, romance personified by Peter Lawford, the exciting dance team of Ricardo Montalban and Cy Charisse, belly-laughing from the one and only Jimmy Durante, to a flock of new song hits backgrounded by the Latin rhythms of Xavier Cugat and his famous band, The U.S. Secret Service and Scotland Yard combine as gangbusters for the excitingly-paced screen thrills in "The Counterfeiters," the companion film. Co-starring John Sutton, Doris Merrick, Hugh Beaumont and Lon Chaney in its effective cast, the Reliance Picture is a gorgeously contrived expose of a counterfeit ring of international scope.

On Wednesday, Review Day, the program includes "Holiday In Mexico," starring Walter Pidgeon, Jane Powell and Roddy McDowell and selected short subjects.

Another fine play bearing the extraordinary craftsmanship of Lillian Hellman has been transformed into a motion picture that must receive consideration among the top films of the year. It is "Another Part Of The Forest" which starts Thursday

Three War Dead Due Home For Reburial

St. Agnes CYO Cops Crown

By Paul M. Asselin

At the Summer Street Field last Tuesday night, St. Agnes' C.Y.O. Intermediates blanked St. James' of the Heights 3 to 0 to take the second straight in the 'Town Series' and win the crown.

The pitchers' duel was great but the victor, Tom Coughlin, held the edge by yielding only two hits, one walk, and striking out seven, while Murphy struck out ten, walked two, but allowed four hits.

After pitcher Tom had reached on an error in the third inning, Jack Donelan banged a single to force him in. With two out in the fifth, Jack Doran belted his single, followed by Warren Ryan's lining double which scored him. In the sixth, lead off man Ed Murphy reached on an error and crossed the plate when pinch hitter, Bob Salisbury, walloped one of the season's fiercest doubles.

The Hoboes' coach, Moose Carey, turned the tables on his team last Friday night by leading St. Agnes' to a 4-2 victory over them. Aided by Moose's fourth inning single and allowing but three Hoboe hits, the audience enjoyed his very colorful performance to the end.

The bodies of three more Arlington war dead are on the way home for reburial in home ground.

The three originally had been interred in military cemeteries in the Phillipine Islands, and are being returned to the United States aboard the U.S. Army Transport Dalton Victory.

Due home for recommitment services soon are:

PFC. Paul G. Yeung, son of Mrs. Helen G. Young of 115 Medford St. PFC. Young, one of three brothers in service, was killed Oct. 21, 1945, while serving as a paratrooper with the 11th Airborne Division.

Second Lieut. Harry N. Elgee, son of Mrs. Norma Safgreem Elgee of 35 Overlook Rd. He was killed in action Nov. 1, 1944, over the Negro Islands in the South Pacific.

RM2c Robert J. Paradis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Paradis of 231 Broadway, killed in Phillipines June 15, 1945.

Many Vets' Insurance Reinstated

More than 14,000 Bay State Veterans reinstated $87,420,000 worth of National Service Life Insurance during the month of July, there by taking advantage of the "no physical exam" reinstatement provision which expired July 31.

According to Walter V. Robinson, insurance officer for the Boston Regional Office of the VA, the average policy reinstated was for $6,000.

VA officials of the Boston Regional Office attributed the tremendous response of Massachusetts veterans to this opportunity to hold on to their GI insurance, to the excellent cooperation of the press and radio stations in Massachusetts, families by giving widespread publicity to the essential facts incident to reinstatement.

Robinson emphasized that veterans may still reinstate lapsed policies, but if they have been lapsed for more than three months they will be required to take a physical examination in order to qualify as an insurance risk.

The award was given for the correct identification of Peggy Lee as the vocalist on the recording of "Them There Eyes", played by emcee Stan Shaw. Each Sunday residents from a certain town or city in Greater Boston are given an opportunity to try and solve the "platter puzzle", and the first person to call in with the correct answer receives the prize of a recorded album of well-known music.

Free Backyard Movies Draw Children, Adults

Showing "Free Movies" on pleasant evenings during the summer months, for youngsters of all ages and grown-ups too, for that matter is not an unusual sight around Palmer Street, when George Wright brings his 16mm sound projector and screen outside in the back yard.

George has shown many personal reels of color movies of boys on camping trips. These pictures augment sound feature films which he rents for the evening's entertainment. Shows are made up of all types of subjects—comedies, travel, sports and animated cartoons. The subjects invariably are varied so that all who attend find something of interest.

The seating is never a problem at the shows. Many arrive before dusk to insure the most advantageous spots from which to view the films. Youngsters, and their parents, squat and sprawl on the lawn to watch the pictures.

A staff of "stage hands," older boys and adults, are recruited to help set up the projection equipment and then secure the screen. They are equally helpful when it comes to take them down again at the end of each show.

Of course, no one receives any money for this because George doesn't take money for the shows. Everything is free; it's just part of his hobby of making and showing movies. Many who visit the shows wonder why he doesn't capitalize on the venture and charge admissions. But they are among the few who fail to recognize that these movies keep the youngsters off the street, and besides George likes to see the youngsters happy and they really are when watching one of these "free movie" shows.

Radio Winner

Mrs. Elsie Barr, of 21, Lee Terrace was a recent winner on the "Malcolm's Morning Watch" program, hard each morning over WCOP from 6 to 8:30. For her interesting letter to emcee Howard Malcolm, Mrs. Barr was given a gold compact.

Malcolm is currently requesting listeners to write in humorous or entertaining happenings of their early morning life, or any experiences which might be of interest to his many "Morning Watch" listeners.

The group of boys and girls will assemble in front of the Arlington Town Hall between 12:30 and 1 o'clock, Sept. 3rd. It is hoped that many public spirited adults will volunteer their cars for that afternoon to transport the children from playgrounds in Arlington to the baseball grounds. Those who volunteered their cars last month, when similar group was taken to the Red Sox game, enjoyed an afternoon of fun with the children and had a good time themselves.

Tickets will be provided for the volunteer leaders and they will get a free seat at the game. Volunteers are requested to notify Mr. Keenan, Mr. McFadden or Mr. McManis as to the numbers that can be accommodated in their cars in order that sufficient transportation will be available to take the children to the ball game.

Filmed in England at a cost of over $1,500,000 and taking seven months to shoot, Hamlet has been rated by critics as one of the truly great motion pictures of all time.

Dramatic and exciting, Hamlet sweeps through to a great climatic sword duel in which Olivier as Hamlet is wounded and eventually dies and his opponent later is killed by a poisoned sword. Running 2½ hours, the film has been cut from the full length stage play version which runs for 4½ hours when performed without cuts.

5 Here Heard On Radio with Nelson Bragg

WCOP's well-known master of ceremonies, Nelson Bragg—a former Arlingtonian himself—talks with housewives and others who are in the area of the Liggett store at 1 p. m., when the program is recorded. Each day it originates in front of a different Rexall store in Metropolitan Boston, and is broadcast over WCOP at 5:45 p. m. the same day. The show is heard Mondays through Friday at this time.

Red Feather Services

The very fine reputation for its charitable work enjoyed by the officers and members of St. James Branch, Massachusetts Catholic Woman's Guild, is due largely to its membership in the Red Feather Community Fund.

The Branch is located in St. James' Hall, which is donated by the Chaplain, Rev. Dr. Maurice J. O'Connor for the use of meetings, socials and money making events. The membership, approximately 80, is made up of women from all parts of the town under the leadership of Mrs. Patrick J. Coleman, Regent; Mrs. Patrick J. Cunneen, Vice Regent; Mrs. John F. Quinn, Treasurer, Mrs. John W. Deasey, Rec. Secretary and Mrs. John Hardy, Fin. Secretary. Mrs. Frank Lansing, Mrs. Jeremiah Horgan, & Mrs. Patrick Kedian assisted by the Regent take care of the charity program.

Though composed of Catholic Women the Branch is strictly non-sectarian in all its works, and in keeping with its charter all money acquired through the various methods must be used for charity as well as the money received from the Community Fund.

Our aid is temporary, usually filling in where sickness takes place, death occurs or helping the aged to survive some unforeseen misfortunes. The cases we help usually come to our attention from the regular channels and a neighborly interest of someone living near a needy family often helps us to get to a group who need a little help but are reluctant to seek it out.

This is true of a family recently helped over a trying period by the Branch. A neighbor knowing our strictly secret method of handling such cases called on our Charity Chairman and suggested that she call on a family near her. Her interest was aroused by the fact that the children had not been playing outdoors and she feared they may be ill, knowing the mother had a new baby and the father was suddenly taken sick.

On investigation our member found a dire need of warm clothes for the outdoors, shoes, rubbers and mittens. All the six older ones were taken care of that same day and were able to go out in the fresh air. The new baby was supplied with all the articles of clothing necessary, and a call at the drug store insured an ample supply of medicine to bring back health and happiness to the family. The funds to accomplish this, which is only one of many similar cases, handled during the year, was received from the Community Fund. A "Thank You" received by the Regent and read without name or address to the Branch amply expressed the deep appreciation of a thankful father and mother speaking for a model family of seven children who were helped to survive what seemed to be a major crisis. Now the father has regained health and resumed his work. The mother is in good physical condition and both are thankful that such an organization exists which can temporarily help someone in distress.

Doing work like this seems to make life worth living for the officers and members of St. James Branch.

All time and effort of the entire staff of officers and members is voluntary, thus enabling everything to be put into our work. We supply fuel, food orders, Christmas and Thanksgiving dinners, clothing or medicines to the needy and are proud to say that we find residents of the town who need a little help are truly honest and most cooperative in our investigating efforts.

The officers and members of the Branch are looking forward to the Program this Fall and are only too willing and ready to do their share towards the success of the Red Feather drive in Arlington.

"Mama, Help Me!"

A Pitiful Plight For A Little Girl To Be In . . .

'MOMMY, HOW CAN I GO OUT AND PLAY LIKE THIS?' This was the puzzled question that little Monica Cotter, cruelly burned by flames, asked from her hospital cot when her mother was first allowed to see her. But now, two months after the tragic accident, Monica has resigned herself to lying helpless in bed. She's undergone many skin-grafting operations and blood transfusions and must undergo many more. Though only four and a half years old, she understands that the doctors and nurses are saving her life and patching her up so she'll look whole again. When her mother first saw her, though, Monica asked: "Mommy, tell them to take these things off . . . how can I go out and play like this?" The photo above was taken last Thursday, 24 hours after the fifth operation—in which skin from the child's back was grafted onto her arms.

bishop's message or heard it in church, and I don't doubt that it had a pronounced effect."

Even allowing for names that will be dropped from the voting lists during the present checkup, Mr. Ryder believes the net total eligible to cast ballots in the primaries will be approximately 23,000.

Additional registrations will come, of course before the election Nov. 2.

(Note: Just at press time, the town clerk announced that a revision of the voting lists had changed the picture somewhat. So many names have been stricken off the list, he said, that the net total eligible to vote in the primaries has been cut to 22,334. Last March there were 22,439 registered voters.)

Among his team mates who will be playing in next Tuesday's benefit will be Pat Egan and Lennie Loman, Boston Bruins hockey players; Eddie Barry, Boston Olympics Hockey Club; Art Johnson, former Braves pitcher; and Ike Bevins, B. U. catcher and goal tender. Umpires will donate their services.

A number of prizes, donated by local merchants, will be awarded at the game.

Two-family houses, and garden type apartments, came in for "particular consideration"—according to official announcement—at a meeting Monday of the recently-created Arlington Housing Authority.

Possible land sites for veterans' homes also were discussed, though the Authority is scrupulously avoiding definite mention of sites under consideration.

It was announced that some additional veterans had filed questionnaires through the Department of Veterans' Services, setting forth their need of housing accommodations.

"Upon the basis of a further analysis of the veterans' housing questionnaires, and with the use of additional information obtained within the last few weeks," said an announcement by Harold E. Magnuson, temporary secretary, "it has become possible for the Arlington Housing Authority to make a more accurate determination of the actual need of veterans and veterans' dependents for housing in Arlington."

Much of the meeting Monday was given over to preliminary preparation of the application which must be submitted to the State Housing Board to obtain funds for the housing project here.

The State Housing Board has tentatively earmarked $1,728,587 for Arlington's use. This would permit construction of as many as 173 veterans' homes at $10,000 per unit.

I Wonder ?

I WONDER when a certain florist on Broadway will take down a sign advertising Memorial Day baskets?

I WONDER who picked up the paper Monday and commented: "Well, I'm not as bad off as the government; I don't owe any billion and a half."

I WONDER if genial John the bartender isn't one reason for the continued popularity of Frank's Steak House in North Cambridge?

I WONDER who was the teller at the Arlington Five Cents Savings Bank who was telling an elderly lady customer how good the bank's retirement fund is?

I WONDER if that isn't a clever sign we noticed on the rear of a bakery truck: "Hit me gently; I'm full of good pies?"

I WONDER how many will follow the example of the five-year-old girl who came to the office of the Press to add her $1. to the Monica Trust Fund?

I WONDER if Albert Catarino of Park St., has found out who spread carpet tacks near the tires of his parked car?

I WONDER why a woman on River St. refused to let her son and daughter in the house Saturday night at 11?

I WONDER if the persons at that party on Hamlet St., early Saturday were surprised to find that neighbors had complained to police about the noise they were making?

I WONDER how Dodo enjoyed his trip to Springfield?

Plays, Minstrels To Climax Season By Playground Groups

Wm. Lanigan Retired, Dies

William Wickford Lanigan, husband of the late Catherine Cantwell Lanigan of 92 Fairmont St., died Wednesday morning. He had been ill about six months.

Mr. Lanigan, a retired cooper, had been a resident of Arlington the past 25 years. He leaves five sons and four daughters: Mrs. Jack Fry of Halifax, N. S., the Misses Bernice and Marie, Cyril J., Edmund B., and Mrs. Agnes Bouchie, all residents of Arlington, and William J., a police officer in Arlington, John P., of Cambridge and Denis W., of South Boston.

The funeral will be held from the residence, with a Mass of Requiem at 10 o'clock Saturday. Burial will be in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery in Arlington.

I WONDER if anyone could translate the letters in Finnish that Clifford Anderson of 8 Endicott Rd. has received and wishes he could read?

I WONDER why Mrs. Holt screamed instead of just feeding that cute little mouse that peeked out at her from her pantry Wednesday morning, and if she realizes that screams frighten little mice?

I WONDER who, on Mill St., was playing recordings of Glenn Darwin until midnight Tuesday night?

Mail Truck On Rampage Hits Fence

A mail truck went on a rampage Monday afternoon, wrecking a town fence.

The truck, operated by William E. Sullivan Jr., of 478 Marrett Rd., Lexington, had been parked in front of 26 Kimball Rd., while Sullivan made a mail delivery.

The brakes suddenly let go, and the machine raced down the street incline. Luckily, no one was in its way but it badly damaged a town-owned fence at the foot of the street.

Boy Diver Injured At Reservoir

Diving off rocks on the shore of Reservoir Beach Tuesday morning, about 9 o'clock, Lawrence Teel, 14, of 23 Crescent Hill Ave., was painfully injured when he came in contact with a nail-studded timber.

The nail ripped the boy's left thigh several inches.

He was removed in the police ambulance to Symmes Hospital, and after being treated was able to be taken home later the same day.

LITTLE THINGS about the Stars

By GEORGE LILLEY

SHOW ON A SHOW
New and interesting things happen on radio's daytime serials. Among the newest: A case where "Charlotte Brandon," of CBS' "Guiding Light," usually a struggling girl in the script, finds herself suddenly elevated into radio stardom. She did a broadcast on the broadcast. At the end of the show, the announcer asked listeners if they liked their "Charlotte" as a radio star. They did. Letters rolled in demanding that "Charlotte" be permitted to continue her success. The response surprised even veteran serial writer Irna Phillips. Consequently the script of "Guiding Light" has been changed slightly. Every few weeks now the program gives way to "Charlotte's program." Sultry Chattanooga-born Betty Lou Gerson plays both roles.

HAUNTS AND DREAMS
About a year ago Maestro Mark Warnow listened to an audition record of a new song. He didn't like the song but he did want to know who was that singer. The record didn't list the name. But Warnow traced it down, came up with smart looking, thirtyish, Glenn Darwin. It was the baritone's big radio break. He is heard weekly now (Sunday afternoons, ABC) on Warnow's copy "Sound Off" one of the most swiftest around, also one of the best musical shows on the air. The program, too, features an ex-G.I., Arno Tanney with U.S. Army chant that haunts listeners "plus a variety of glamour gal singers who let 'em dream."

Very Little Things
Fast writing Dave Driscoll, who has authored for years CBS' "Young Dr. Malone," still is unable to remember the names of his characters. He types in the first names that come to him, unscrambles them later with a cast list ... First name is Gordon, likes to cook. But Tex Beneke, 29, starred on the Army's "On the Beam," Friday nights, Mutual, is no sissy. He hates those "pretty boy" pictures, wants to look like "what I look like" (see cut) ... 95% of 300 kids polled by the "House of Mystery" (Sun. afternoons, Mutual) said their parents didn't object to them listening to whodunits on the radio. And if they did? Well, they'd listen anyway!

Glenn Darwin
... who was he?

Tex Beneke
... not so pretty
